Praise The Lord!!

Praise the Lord! It's always a great way to begin with praise and I am pleased to report that I received my long-stay visa for France while in Miami last month. Thank you for your prayers as the trip and the visit to the French Consulate were both delightful.

Downtown Marietta. They were having a street festival while I was there.

I also had a great time in Ohio visiting with the rest of my family. I grew up in a small town called Marietta. It's quite beautiful and has a lot of history as it's the first territory in Northwest Settlement, established in 1788. My older brother and sister, aunt and uncle live there as does my Mom and Step-dad during the summer months. It's the place that I still call home and I'd like to visit more often but it's not exactly easy to get to since the closest airport is two hours away. In some ways, getting to Paris is

 Bruce (brother-in-law), Scott (brother),
 Conner (nephew)
 bottom row: Lisa (sister)
 and Daphine (sister-in-law)

Aunt Ruth & Uncle Don

Fred, my Step-Dad and Mom (Peggy).

'Bringing His Light to the City of Lights'

logistically easier than Marietta. I just get on a couple of planes and I am transported from city to city; well, add on ten extra hours.

I leave the first part of August to search for an apartment in Paris. I've been blessed to have a free place to stay for ten days while this family is on vacation. Within that time period I need to find a place to lease. This is a big prayer request as apartment hunting is very competitive, especially in the lower price range that I'm looking for. Please pray for the Lord's provision because it's a bit daunting to commit to a place to live without knowing the area and neighborhoods. I'm also blessed to have a couple of people from Calvary Chapel Paris who are willing to help me. My French is nowhere near the skill level required to negotiate something like a lease.

Speaking of French...that's another prayer request. Please pray continuously that God will grant me favor in that I learn the language quickly so that I can communicate both verbally and in written form. I plan to begin language school when I return to France at the beginning of September.

Now it might seem like I'm

...in His Kingdom and through it I am blessed with more wasting money flying to Paris for 10 days in August only to return at the start of September. However, this is not the case. In reality, I make less than minimum wage, but in His Kingdom and through it I am blessed with more. I'm so grateful to have as my friend Susan Overton. Susan works for the airlines and since she isn't married, she has named me as her companion traveler. This means that means I can fly absolutely free within the US and to Europe! And it's always encouraging to me when God uses one of His children to meet the need of another

if that's not enough, my friend Amy (Morford) Walvoord's husband also works for the airlines and they donate free passes to me as well. I'd also like to thank Joyce, a Calvary Chapel St. Petersburg member, who has let me stay at her home rent free while she's on assignment in another state. The list goes on and it's always encouraging to me when God uses one of His children to meet the need of another. We are His body and as such we need each other. I thank Jesus that He calls all of the members of the body to work together. It's a beautiful thing to be involved in and to witness.

May the Lord's Peace and Power keep you and bless you,

*With love,
Lori*
