Reaching Internationals Locally—Renea

Eun Young arrived to our apartment complex early in the fall. Though, she came straight from Korea with no extended family or friends, we have become unlikely friends. At first, we had to write down all that we were saying to each other. Now, every Tuesday we drink tea and talk for hours. Our friendship has grown into sharing about our lives. We both look forward to our times together as do each of our kids.

Though Christianity is common in Korea, Eun Young has no belief in God. At first, she was hesitant to talk about spiritual things. But as our friendship has grown I have seen her trust me with more personal things about her beliefs. She now has an interest in Christianity.

My friendship with Eun Young is stirring passion in me to see God at work in the hearts of internationals. I believe God brought Eun Young here with a purpose beyond her husband’s job moving them here. As a mom with a 2-year-old, I sometimes wonder how I can serve and have impact in ministry. But God is giving me opportunities to do just that—and with internationals nonetheless.

Will you pray with me for more opportunities to meet more who desperately need to hear of Christ? And will you join with me in praying for Eun Young’s salvation?

Kelly and Eun Young

Love,
Jeff, Renea and BJ

Reaching Internationals Globally—Jeff

As for a decision about next year (and years to come), we are pleased to tell you we have one! I will remain working in my International Human Resources (IHR) role. Specifically, I coach staff to develop their financial ministry partner team. This encouragement and accountability enables them to report quickly, multiplying my efforts to further reach more people for Christ.

It has been so exciting to be here this year. I absolutely love what I do and come home energized! This recent decision & discovery was aided by our experiences.

Since going on a summer mission trip to Kazakhstan and taking the Perspectives course at our VA church, God expanded our view of his Mission to reach the world. So it was interesting to see that what I’ve been doing and will continue to do contains those biblical & global elements.

You can also thank God on our behalf for bringing us here this year. We end this year renewed by God in life and in ministry. Our vision is clear and God has really provided us some significant friendships.

Much love and thanks for you all and your committed service to us and to the Lord. We appreciate and love you deeply.
